LORIMER FOLLOWERS IN SESSION

TO NAME STATE CANDIDATES WHO WILL ENTER PRIMARIES

RESOLUTIONS CONDEMNING THE INITIATIVE, REFERENDUM AND RECALL ARE TO BE INTRODUCED.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 12—Prepared to endorse a slate of candidates for every state office in the republican primaries, the Lorimer Lincoln league met in convention here today. Senator William Lorimer, who organized the league for the purpose of regaining control of the Illinois party machinery of which he was once boss and to arouse "sentiment" in behalf of his retention in the United States senate, was at the helm when the delegates assembled. [illegible]

All candidates for nominations under the primary law, filed their petitions three days ago, so the meeting today can only be one of ratification and announcement to the "dear old public" just who are the primary candidates, and have agreed to carry the Lorimer banner.

Strong resolutions condemning initiative, referendum and recall as "socialistic and unrepublican" will be introduced and no doubt adopted.

The Lorimer forces have already shown their hand as to some of the candidates, but as to the make up of the remainder of the slate there is still considerable mystery.

As soon as the entire slate is picked by the convention the Lorimer Lincoln leaguers will formulate plans for a vigorous fight in behalf of their candidates.

A speedy settlement of the present crisis is now expected. Two capitals will be maintained for the present, Nanking and Peking.

Hundreds of Manchus Killed—

SHANGHAI, Feb. 12—The revolutionist troops inflicted a severe slaughter on the imperial army at Nanking today. By the explosion of underground mines hundreds of the Manchu soldiers were blown to pieces. The explosions tore huge holes in the earth and the imperial army is now in flight.

TAFT WILL HAVE OHIO DELEGATES

GOOD IMPRESSION WAS MADE BY TAFT ON HIS RECENT TRIP

CAMPAIGN MANAGERS OF THE PRESIDENT CONFIDENT HE WILL CARRY HOME STATE WITH EASE.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12—President Taft believes he is now stronger than ever in his home state, Ohio, as the result of his recent speechmaking visit there. He is now convinced that he will have the votes of the state, or the bulk of them in the Chicago convention, as certainly as anything political can be.

There is only one cloud on the Ohio horizon, from the president's standpoint—that is the Roosevelt cloud. If the former president should enter the race as an active instead of a receptive, candidate, he could undoubtedly give the president's friends a lot to think about.

Neither the LaFollette nor Cummins people can do much in Ohio. They might, if their forces were combined, carry a district or two, but they cannot, as the situation now stands, control any substantial part of the delegation, according to those who followed Mr. Taft through the state.

There is a strong insurgent following in northern Ohio. There can be no doubt of this. But the sentiment does not apparently prevail. It certainly does not control the party machinery and is therefore less effective than it otherwise would be. Senator LaFollette's warmest friends are in northern Ohio, but there are not enough of them in any one place to handle the local situation.

This is not true of the Roosevelt following. The state is full of supporters of the colonel. They are not organized and are not led by any party manager of force, but they have numbers and have them in every section of the state. This fact was absolutely demonstrated by the last trip to his home state.

If Roosevelt should declare himself a candidate and make the proper kind of campaign, there is every reason to believe he could split the Ohio delegation with the president. He might not be able to control a majority of votes in the Chicago convention from that state, but he could press Mr. Taft even on that score.

Teddy Going to Ohio—

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 12—Col. Theodore Roosevelt has wired an acceptance of the invitation to address the constitutional convention now in session here February 21. It is believed this will be the opening of his campaign against President Taft in the state of Ohio.

THE MEN'S MEETING AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH.

The men's meeting held at the First Baptist church, Sunday afternoon by the Men and Religion Forward Movement, was a very interesting one and even more largely attended than that of the preceding Sabbath. The meeting was addressed by Dr. S. F. Leland, J. C. Cook, H. T. McClellan, William C. Bowers and James Thompson, and there was some excellent music by a quartet composed of Messrs. Edward Cameron, W. S. Edwards, Arthur Otis and A. K. Bruhaw, assisted by Dr. Addison O'Neill.

WEDDING IN LONDON TODAY BRILLIANT SOCIAL FUNCTION

LADY ROSABELLE ERSKINE BECOMES THE BRIDE OF DAVID CECIL BINGHAM AT GUARDS' CHAPEL.

LONDON Feb. 12—The most brilliant social function of the London pre-lenten season took place at noon today, when Lady Rosabelle St. Clari Erskine, daughter of the Earl of Rosslyn, was married to David Cecil Bingham, stepson of the former Mrs. Chauncey. The ceremony took place in the Guards' Chapel, Wellington Barracks, and was attended by a number of English army officers as well as the social elite of London. The aisle through which the bridal party passed was lined with two rows of guardsmen and the music was furnished by the military band. Lady Rosabelle looked exceedingly charming in a tunic gown of white chiffon, the tunic being edged with a silver bead fringe. The feature of the gown was a silver girdle, fastened with a large diamond buckle.

Six bridesmaids were in attendance and all were garbed in original gowns of bluish pink and in place of hats they wore quaint little Dutch caps of lace, tied with narrow blue ribbons. After the ceremony the Duchess of Southerland entertained the bridal party and their guests at a reception in the grand hall of her mansion, the Stafford house. This was the first time the bronze gates of the hall had been swung open for the reception of a festal gathering in over 20 years.

The Retort Genial.

A southern woman who is now past her prime, but whose ready wit still makes her a welcome guest wherever she goes, tells the following story about an encounter with what she terms a "northern iceberg." She was at a musical entertainment at a private house in New York, and at the end of a song which had been delightfully rendered she turned with an exclamation of pleasure to a lady who sat near and whom she knew by sight, but had never met. The woman addressed looked at her in surprise for a moment and then asked coldly, "Have I the pleasure of knowing you?"

"No," was the answer, "but I felt at liberty to speak to you on account of your being under such very great obligations to me."

"Will you have the goodness to explain what you mean?" said the New York woman haughtily.

"Merely that I refused your husband twenty-five years ago," replied the little southerner as she moved away to seek a more congenial atmosphere.

The Vegetarian Oyster.

Oysters are most exemplary in the matter of diet. The oyster is well nigh a vegetarian, living almost exclusively on seaweed, including the minute pine pollen of the water. Smaller animals form only 5 per cent of his food. He is a methodical feeder, always dining between the hours of 12 and 2 in the afternoon. When he wants his meals he simply opens his shell and lets the water flow in through a sort of gill, which retains the food, allowing the water to run out again. It is only in frosty weather that the oyster goes off his feed. In order to protect himself as much as possible from the cold he lies with the bulging shell uppermost. In this position he cannot open his shell and must perforce go short of food. But he would sooner starve than let the cold water in to chill his delicate flesh. Bless him!—London Chronicle.

In Mourning For Tigers.

The Mosa-Arol, otherwise known in Darrang as Bagh-Arol, the tiger folk, a subtribe or sept of the Bara race, still regard it as the correct thing to go into mourning for twenty-four hours or so whenever a tiger dies near their village. Solid food is tabooed—no slight privation to the Kachari, stout fellows and, in fact, the navvies of Assam par excellence. Then at the end of the fast there must be a general cleanup, the floors and walls being smeared with a mud, clothes and brazen utensils being thoroughly cleansed in running water and earthenware vessels that have been used at all being actually broken and thrown away. Lastly, santi-jal, "the water of peace," is drunk and the flesh of a sacrificed fowl or pig eaten by all the clansmen in common.—London Athenaeum.

A Far Distant Sun.

The star Canopus surpasses the sun in brightness by more than 10,000 times.

Multiplying by Machinery.

The clerical staffs of many of the big insurance companies have of late years been considerably reduced by the employment of mechanical calculators. One of these, the invention of a German, is a compact little affair resembling a music box. It may be made to perform almost instantaneously the more portentous sums in addition, subtraction, multiplication by one or two factors, division, squaring and cubing. It is required, for instance, to multiply 221,575 by 929. The first factor is set by touching the little knobs representing 221,575. To multiply by the other factor you turn a handle four times, push along a slide one place and turn the handle twice, then push the slide another place onward and push the handle nine times. The long multiplication is now done without a possibility of error so far as the machine is concerned, and the dial shows 205,843,175. In the same mechanical way may be done all the other arithmetical processes.—London Globe.

Strange Timekeepers.

To ascertain the time of night the Apache Indians employed a gourd on which the stars of the heavens were marked. As the constellations rose in the sky the Indians referred to the gourd and found out the hour. By turning the gourd around he could tell the order in which the constellations might be expected to appear.

The hill people of Assam reckon time and distance by the number of quids of betel nut chewed. It will be remembered how, according to Washington Irving, the Dutch colonial assembly was invariably dismissed at the last puff of the third pipe of tobacco of Governor Wouter Van Twiller.

A Montagnais Indian of Canada will set up a tall stick in the snow when traveling ahead of friends who are to follow. He marks with his foot the line of shadow cast, and by the change in the angle of the shadow the oncoming party can tell on arriving at the spot about how far ahead the leader is.

Fighter of the Family.

The tough little boy with the red hair and freckled face pushed up against the neat little boy and said impudently:

"My sister can lick your sister."

The neat little boy did not argue the matter.

"And my big brother can lick your big brother."

The good little lad winced.

"And my ma can lick your ma."

The quiet lad shifted from one foot to the other.

"And my pa can lick your pa."

There was a flash of pink shirt waist, the sound of some hard object coming in contact with a spongy substance, and the quiet little lad stood triumphantly over his adversary quietly waiting for him to push his nose back into the center of his face where it belonged.

"But just remember this," he observed quietly, "you can't lick me."—Youngstown Telegram.

Canvass of Returns.

The democratic county executive committees of the various counties shall, at noon on the sixth day after each of said primaries are held, or sooner if the returns are in, meet at the county court house of the respective counties in the state, and publicly canvass the returns, and declare what candidates have been nominated by a majority vote for each county office, and in what cases a second primary will have to be held; and the chairman and secretary of each county shall, within two days thereafter, certify to the chairman of the state committee, and to the members of said committee, the results of said election, as to each office, state and national, except as to candidates for congress and shall also certify the result of said election as to delegates to the national convention, presidential electors, and national democratic executive committeeman. They shall also certify the result of the district senatorial committees, where such committees exist, within two days from the date of such canvass, as to the office of state senator, but in senatorial districts comprising more than one county, where there are no senatorial committees, such certificates as to results as to the office of state senator, shall be made to the chairman of the state committee; and shall also certify to the chairman of their respective congressional committees such results as to the candidates for members of congress, such certificates from the chairman of said county committees shall show the result of each primary election in each and every precinct within said county.

The state democratic executive committee shall meet in the city of Jacksonville on the 7th day of May, 1912, at 10 o'clock a. m., and from the consolidated returns from the various counties of the state, shall decide and declare what candidates have been nominated under the call for primaries as hereinbefore set forth, by a majority vote, and in what case, if any, a second primary is necessary. The decisions as to the canvass and returns of the county committees shall be final as to county candidates, including members of the legislature, before such primary.

Qualification of Electors.

Ninth—Those, and only those, persons shall be permitted to vote at or participate in the management of said primary election who are white democratic electors, who declare their adherence to the principles and organization of the democratic party, national, state and county, who are by the laws of the state lawful electors of the district in which they offer to vote, who have paid their poll taxes legally due within the time required by the law of the state regulating primary elections, and who shall, when challenged by any elector make in writing his oath before an inspector that he did not vote against the nominees of the last democratic primaries for national, state and county officers, and that he will support the nominees of this primary.

Time to Pay Poll Taxes.

Tenth—That, whereas, under and by virtue of the provisions of section 16, chapter 5939, acts of the legislature, it is provided, "That where the payment of poll or capitation tax is necessary to qualify voters for participation in primaries herein provided for, that such poll or capitation tax shall be paid not later than the second Saturday in the month preceding the month in which such primary is held;" and whereas, some discussion has arisen as to the correct construction of said provision of law, it is deemed advisable by this committee to express its view that under said statute, in order for an elector to qualify so as to participate in the primaries heretofore called by the state democratic executive committee said poll tax be paid on or before the second Saturday in March, A. D., 1912, the same being the 9th day of said month.

Publication of Official Call for Primary and of Rules and Regulations Adopted by the Campaign Committee.

Eleventh—It is further ordered by the campaign committee, first, that copy of the official call for the democratic primary election to be held on the 30th day of April, and 28th day of May, A. D., 1912, the primary laws and the regulations of this committee, be printed in convenient form for general distribution, and that copies of the same be furnished to each member of the state executive and of the various congressional and county committees, and be at least one newspaper in each county.

SAVE TROUBLE.

Peculiarity of Typhoons.

Typhoons increase their strength as they go north and consequently there may be quite a difference between the power of one in the southern end of the West Indian islands as compared with one in the north. It is this feature which makes the hurricanes of the West Indies more to be dreaded than the Pacific typhoons of this latitude.

Peculiarity of Typhoons.

Typhoons increase their strength as they go north and consequently there may be quite a difference between the power of one in the southern end of the West Indian islands as compared with one in the north. It is this feature which makes the hurricanes of the West Indies more to be dreaded than the Pacific typhoons of this latitude.

PLAIN WORDS TO RICH AND POOR.

Compliments John Wanamaker on Princely Gift.

Pastor Russell, Accompanied by Foreign Missions Investigation Committee, Preaches in Victoria Hall, Madras—Large Audiences Heard Him Twice Yesterday.

PASTOR RUSSELL

Madras, India, Feb. 11.—The "Foreign Missions Investigation Committee" is here. Our finest auditorium, the Victoria Hall, was crowded to hear Pastor Russell. He spoke twice today. We report one of his discourses from the text: "The blessing of the Lord, it maketh rich; and He addeth no sorrow therewith." (Proverbs x, 22.) He said:—

The thing which strikes me specially as I visit your great city for the first time is the marked contrast between the palaces of your superior quarter and the hovels of Blacktown—the contrast between great riches and great poverty. But think not that I have come to speak words which would engender strife or even discontent. Rather my message is one of peace.

The inequalities, mental and physical, which prevail amongst us as members of a fallen race, produce naturally our inequalities as respects wealth and social conditions; it is well, therefore, that we should not accept the rabid views entertained by many, but we should think soberly, dispassionately. We should remember that God Himself is very rich. All the gold and silver are His, and the cattle upon a thousand hills, with infinite power beyond human comprehension.

We should remember that it is written that "Abraham was very rich," and that his riches did not interfere with the fact that he "was the friend of God," and that to him God gave that great promise secured by the Divine oath, which is the basis of all hope for the blessing of the world: "In thee and in thy Seed shall all the families of the earth be blessed." Other noble characters on the pages of history are noted as having possessed great wealth.

We should therefore view the matter of poverty and riches philosophically. Both poor and rich should be encouraged to use faithfully the opportunities which they possess and to wait patiently for the Lord's time and way for the introduction of the new order of things which He has promised, assured that it is not in our power to hasten or delay the Divine program.

Bible Counsel For the Rich.

The Apostle says, "Charge those amongst you who are rich that they trust not in uncertain riches." The history of centuries corroborates the Apostle's words. The rich and prominent of one day become the poor and forgotten of another. "Riches take wings" in a manner that poverty rarely imitates. The talents and opportunities which have brought great wealth to some of our prominent Americans have brought wealth and prosperity in smaller measure to those associated with them in their enterprises. Indeed, in some respects the entire world, and particularly America, owes them a debt of gratitude for their energy and perseverance in the exercise of their talents along such broad lines.

My mind took this course of reasoning as I looked at the handsome edifice occupied by the Y. M. C. A. of this city, and I was informed that it was the gift of one of our American merchant princes, Mr. John Wanamaker, of New York and Philadelphia. I said to myself, Behold an instance in which riches have been generously expended, even in a far-off land, for the benefit of the masses and with a desire to promote clean and noble manhood along Christian lines.

God's Blessing Maketh Rich.

Our text is an epitomized statement of the Gospel of Christ. All God's blessing for our race will come through the Seed of Abraham—The Christ. The giving of His Son to be man's Redeemer and Deliverer from sin and death was God's blessing to man—making man rich. Messiah, having died for the redemption of the world, is about to bestow upon men the Divine blessing promised to Abraham—"In thee and in thy Seed shall all the families of the earth be blessed."

That blessing to the non-elect world will be a glorious opportunity for rising up out of sin and death conditions to full human perfection in the image and likeness of God—as Adam possessed of this before his fall. It will mean the bringing of the earth to the conditions pictured in Eden. The earth, God declares, He formed not in vain, but to be inhabited. At present man is in a condition of enmity and separation from his Creator and his earthly home is disordered. God's footstool, for 6,000 years, has been the scene of a terrible reign of Sin and Death.

The only hope is in Messiah's Kingdom, which God has promised shall be established for the overthrow of Satan, the abolishing of ignorance and superstition, the enlightenment of mankind and the uplift of all the willing and obedient and for the destruction of the wilfully wicked in the Second Death.

Imperative Adage.

"Politics makes strange bedfellows," said the ready-made philosopher. "Not out our way," rejoined Senator Sorghum. "When a man gets into politics there he doesn't have time to sleep."

THINKS IT A BLUFF.

Mickey—Say, Chimmie, it's wrong fer ill-treat a woman, but if me girl ever says to me wot some girls says ter dere fellers I know I'll lose me temper.

Chimmie—What's dat?

Mickey—Why, when I propose to her an' she says dis is so sudden.

DIET AND HEALTH HINTS

By DR. T. J. ALLEN
Food Specialist

RESULTS OF FOOD VARIATION.

It has been long maintained in these hints, contrary to the common view, that variety in diet is conducive to disease, inefficiency, and shortens life. Many examples have been given of the beneficial results from a mono-diet or an approximate mono diet, and illustrations have been drawn of the beneficial effects of uniformity in diet from the lower orders of nature. Attention is now called to an observation of Walsh, a distinguished American naturalist, quoted by Darwin, who says, "Most vegetable feeding insects live on one kind of plant or on one group of plants; some feed indiscriminately on many kinds, but do not in consequence vary. In several cases, however, insects found living on different plants have been found by Mr. Walsh to present in their larval or mature state, or in both states, slight though constant differences in color, size, or in the nature of their secretions." From this it is clear that variation in feeding, even when confined to one class of food, vegetable, tends to variation and the disorganization of the secretions. Variety in food, animal and vegetable, is much greater in water than on land, and fish, varying more in food than land animals, are extremely subject to cancer, especially the trout, as Dr. Bashford of the Royal Cancer Research Institution has shown; and accordingly, the carp, which is so restricted in its food that bread with few are commonly used in fishing for it, is largely free from cancer, and is known to reach the age of 200 years. Whatever the exciting cause of malignant disease may be, varying in different cases, we believe it has been well established that excessive variety in feeding is the chief physical factor in the causation, indicating the importance of correct feeding as a means of prevention and in the cure.

Choice of Friends.

Much certainty of the happiness and purity of our lives depends on our making a wise choice of our companions and friends. It is well and right, indeed, to be courteous and considerate to every one with whom one is thrown in contact, but to choose them as real friends is another matter. . . . If our friends are badly chosen they may drag us down; if well they will raise us up.—Sir John Lubbock.

When Every Man Was an Enemy.

During the medieval period doors were small and narrow, so that only one person could pass through at a time, owing to the universal need for protection against attack. For this same reason doorways were sometimes set in a recess, commanded by openings through which arrows could be shot. The doors themselves were constructed in one piece and not divided from the center, and were fastened by strong oak bars, which could be drawn across from one side to the other.

Queensland's Sugar Industry.

Queensland is one of the great sugar-producing states of Australia, and practically all of the sugar consumed in the Commonwealth is raised and refined in this state and in the northern part of New South Wales. The leading feature of the sugar industry is the number of small cane growers engaged in it, who now supply cane to the central mills of which they are proprietors.

College Girl Suggestion.

Popularity is like some of the other good things of life, the one who seeks it seldom finds it. However, a hint is that it follows respect. College study is more deceptive than school work. The first few months often seem easy. That is why many girls join the social whirl. When the midyears come they pay the penalty. Unless temporary, artificial, fitting "cramming" comes to their aid. Therefore, at the very beginning do the necessary work each day.

PLAIN WORDS TO RICH AND POOR.

Compliments John Wanamaker on Priestly Gift.

Pastor Russell, Accompanied by Foreign Missions Investigation Committee, Preaches in Victoria Hall, Madras—Large Audiences Heard Him Twice Yesterday.

Madras, India, Feb. 11.—The "Foreign Missions Investigation Committee" is here. Our finest auditorium, the Victoria Hall, was crowded to hear Pastor Russell. He spoke twice today. We report one of his discourses from the text: "The blessing of the Lord, it maketh rich; and He addeth no sorrow therewith." (Proverbs x, 22.) He said:—

The thing which strikes me specially as I visit your great city for the first time is the marked contrast between the palaces of your superior quarter and the hovels of Blacktown—the contrast between great riches and great poverty. But think not that I have come to speak words which would engender strife or even discontent. Rather my message is one of peace.

The inequalities, mental and physical, which prevail amongst us as members of a fallen race, produce naturally our inequalities as respects wealth and social conditions; it is well, therefore, that we should not accept the rabid views entertained by many, but we should think soberly, dispassionately. We should remember that God Himself is very rich. All the gold and silver are His, and the cattle upon a thousand hills, with Infinite power beyond human comprehension.

We should remember that it is written that "Abraham was very rich," and that his riches did not interfere with the fact that he "was the friend of God," and that to him God gave that great promise secured by the Divine oath, which is the basis of all hope for the blessing of the world: "In thee and in thy Seed shall all the families of the earth be blessed." Other noble characters on the pages of history are noted as having possessed great wealth.

We should therefore view the matter of poverty and riches philosophically. Both poor and rich should be encouraged to use faithfully the opportunities which they possess and to wait patiently for the Lord's time and way for the introduction of the new order of things which He has promised, assured that it is not in our power to hasten or delay the Divine program.

Bible Counsel For the Rich.

The Apostle says, "Charge those amongst you who are rich that they trust not in uncertain riches." The history of centuries corroborates the Apostle's words. The rich and prominent of one day become the poor and forgotten of another. "Riches take wings" in a manner that poverty rarely imitates. The talents and opportunities which have brought great wealth to some of our prominent Americans have brought wealth and prosperity in smaller measure to those associated with them in their enterprises. Indeed, in some respects the entire world, and particularly America, owes them a debt of gratitude for their energy and perseverance in the exercise of their talents along such broad lines.

My mind took this course of reasoning as I looked at the handsome edifice occupied by the Y. M. C. A. of this city, and I was informed that it was the gift of one of our American merchant princes, Mr. John Wanamaker, of New York and Philadelphia. I said to myself, Behold an instance in which riches have been generously expended, even in a far-off land, for the benefit of the masses and with a desire to promote clean and noble manhood along Christian lines.

God's Blessing Maketh Rich.

Our text is an epitomized statement of the Gospel of Christ. All God's blessing for our race will come through the Seed of Abraham—The Christ. The giving of His Son to be man's Redeemer and Deliverer from sin and death was God's blessing to man—making man rich. Messiah, having died for the redemption of the world, is about to bestow upon men the Divine blessing promised to Abraham—"In thee and in thy Seed shall all the families of the earth be blessed."

That blessing to the non-elect world will be a glorious opportunity for rising up out of sin and death conditions to full human perfection in the image and likeness of God—as Adam possessed this before his fall. It will mean the bringing of the earth to the conditions pictured in Eden. The earth, God declares, He formed not in vain, but to be inhabited. At present man is in a condition of enmity and separation from his Creator and his earthly home is disordered. God's footstool, for 6,000 years, has been the scene of a terrible reign of Sin and Death.

The only hope is in Messiah's Kingdom, which God has promised shall be established for the overthrow of Satan, the abolishing of ignorance and superstition, the enlightenment of mankind and the uplift of all the willing and obedient and for the destruction of the wilfully wicked in the Second Death.

Inoperative Adage.

"Politics makes strange bedfellows," said the ready-made philosopher. "Not out our way," rejoined Senator Sorghum. "When a man gets into politics there he doesn't have time to sleep."

Helps to Feed Japanese.

Most abundant of all seaweeds are the kelps, distributed along every coast in the world. From these the Japanese prepare many food products, known under the generic name kombu.

THINKS IT A BLUFF.

Mickey—Say, Chimmie, it's wrong ter ill-treat a woman, but if me girl ever says to me wot some girls says ter dere fellers I know I'll lose me temper.

Chimmie—What's dat?

Mickey—Why, when I propose to her an' she says dis is so sudden.

DIET AND HEALTH HINTS

By DR. T. J. ALLEN
Food Specialist

RESULTS OF FOOD VARIATION.

It has been long maintained in these hints, contrary to the common view, that variety in diet is conducive to disease, inefficiency, and shortens life. Many examples have been given of the beneficial results from a mono-diet or an approximate mono diet, and illustrations have been drawn of the beneficial effects of uniformity in diet from the lower orders of nature. Attention is now called to an observation of Walsh, a distinguished American naturalist, quoted by Darwin, who says, "Most vegetable feeding insects live on one kind of plant or on one group of plants; some feed indiscriminately on many kinds, but do not in consequence vary. In several cases, however, insects found living on different plants have been found by Mr. Walsh to present in their larval or mature state, or in both states, slight though constant differences in color, size, or in the nature of their secretions." From this it is clear that variation in feeding, even when confined to one class of food, vegetable, tends to variation and the disorganization of the secretions. Variety in food, animal and vegetable, is much greater in water than on land, and fish, varying more in food than land animals, are extremely subject to cancer, especially the trout, as Dr. Bashford of the Royal Cancer Research institution has shown; and accordingly, the carp, which is so restricted in its food that bread with tow are commonly used in fishing for it, is largely free from cancer, and is known to reach the age of 200 years. Whatever the exciting cause of malignant disease may be, varying in different cases, we believe it has been well established that excessive variety in feeding is the chief physical factor in the causation, indicating the importance of correct feeding as a means of prevention and in the cure.

Choice of Friends.

Much certainty of the happiness and purity of our lives depends on our making a wise choice of our companions and friends. It is well and right, indeed, to be courteous and considerate to every one with whom one is thrown in contact, but to choose them as real friends is another matter. . . . If our friends are badly chosen they may drag us down; if well they will raise us up.—Sir John Lubbock.

When Every Man Was an Enemy.

During the medieval period doors were small and narrow, so that only one person could pass through at a time, owing to the universal need for protection against attack. For this same reason doorways were sometimes set in a recess, commanded by openings through which arrows could be shot. The doors themselves were constructed in one piece and not divided from the center, and were fastened by strong oak bars, which could be drawn across from one side to the other.

Queensland's Sugar Industry.

Queensland is one of the great sugar-producing states of Australia, and practically all of the sugar consumed in the Commonwealth is raised and refined in this state and in the northern part of New South Wales. The leading feature of the sugar industry is the number of small cane growers engaged in it, who now supply cane to the central mills of which they are proprietors.

College Girl Suggestion.

Popularity is like some of the other good things of life, the one who seeks it seldom finds it. However, a hint is that it follows respect. College study is more deceptive than school work. The first few months often seem easy. That is why many girls join the social whirl. When the midyears come they pay the penalty, unless temporary, artificial, flitting "cramming" comes to their aid. Therefore, at the very beginning do the necessary work each day.

Hidden Beauty.

It is difficult to get a boy to see the beauty of the leaves that he is compelled to rake from the lawn.

Show Strength of Character.

High cheek bones are said to indicate great strength of character in some direction.

Four years ago there was sold in a London auction room what might have appeared an ordinary eight-page letter. The price realized was $23,000.

PECK-HENDRICKS.

Bronco Is Unbroken.

Bronco means simply an unbroken horse, be it thoroughbred or mongrel. Most think them a bad, sorry breed as compared to old English thoroughbreds and gray stocks. Let us think not, for the wild horses themselves were thoroughbred Spanish and Arabian once upon a time.

Evil in Excess of Diversion.

It is found by an Italian doctor that the excess of diversion in the lives of New York women is bound to bring upon them the miseries of neurasthenia. This disease has, according to the doctor, different ways of affecting limp with exhaustion, the pure Saxons are dull and torpid and the American is merely overstimulated and tries to go faster and faster.

Found Valuable Pearl.

A negro pearl hunter the other day found a pearl weighing 47 grains in the waters of Lake Bioteneau, near Shreveport, La., said to be one of the largest gems of its kind in the United States. The finder sold it in Shreveport for $250, and the purchaser in turn received $1,500 for the stone. The second owner was a merchant, but the third a professional pearl buyer. This last values the gem at $10,000.

Nelson Relic Brought Large Sum.

Four years ago there was sold in a London auction room what might have appeared an ordinary eight-page letter. The "letter," however, happened to be the original "General Memoranda" drawn up by Nelson immediately before Trafalgar, and foreshadowing the plan of attack of that action. The price realized was $18,000.

Stronghold of Wasps.

An extraordinary nest of wasps was discovered lately on the Bedfordshire (Eng.) estate of Lord Ampthill, where a man, using three wire wasp traps, has caught over 4,000 wasps. The nest consisted of six tiers, which stood six and a half inches high, and measured eight and a half inches across. The cells contained grubs and young wasps in different stages of growth.

Remembered the Lesson.

My little girl, who was about three years old, had always had it impressed upon her that after she was once dressed she should not get dirty again. One afternoon after being dressed she went out to play and fell down in the dirt. She then came running to me and cried, "O, mamma now I'm all undressed."—Exchange.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10—The fire in the Equitable Life Assurance company's building, which started yesterday morning and gutted the big granite and marble structure, is still burning today and the city firemen are working hard to subdue the flames.

Between $1,000,000,000 and $1,500,000,000 worth of securities are locked in the vaults of the big building and the vaults in the ruins are being strongly guarded by a cordon of police.

It is now known that seven lives have been lost in the fire and others may be in the ruins.

The Equitable officers declared today that none of the policyholders will lose a cent because of the disaster. By hard work the firemen have been able to keep the blaze from spreading to other structures in the vicinity.

Burdens of Liberty.

The men and women who are strong, wise and free are those upon whom the burdens of the world are laid. The tasks of the slave are nothing compared with those that come with liberty.—The Christian Register.

CONTINUED COLD TONIGHT IS BUREAU PERDICTION

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12—The prediction of the government weather bureau is for continued cold throughout South Georgia and Florida tonight with frost in the Florida peninsula.

Juvenile Compositions.

I am by no means disposed to go so far as the historian of New England, John Gorham Palfrey, who, as I have been told, was wont to express the desire that an act of congress should be passed forbidding on pain of death any one under twenty-one years of age to write a sentence.—Professor Lounsbury in Harper's Magazine.

*"Crescent Theater" tonight, souvenirs to each one.

Amusing the Children.

A good way to amuse the children on a rainy day is to cut colored pictures from old magazines. These are pasted on cardboard squares and the squares are fastened together by piercing them with a knife and threading them upon a bright piece of ribbon. Select pictures of all kinds, including plenty of animals, birds and flowers.

House for rent for balance of season, 7 room house, nicely furnished, including piano. Inquire at 83 Fairview avenue. tf-2t

Natural Death Intervened.

A woman's natural death in the act of trying to hang herself formed the subject of an inquest at Liverpool, England, recently. Sarah Stafford, thirty-six, widow of a ship laborer, was found hanging in her bedroom by a belt attached to the rail of the bed, but it was established by medical evidence that she died from heart failure before she could actually commit suicide.

Higher Than Niagara.

Far up Potaro river in British Guiana are the Kaieteur falls, among the most wonderful in the world and among the least known. Though discovered forty years ago, the falls have been visited very seldom by white men, yet they are five times as high as Niagara.

*"Crescent Theater" tonight, souvenirs to each one.

Excellent Mexican Shrimps.

The shrimps from the coast of the Gulf of Mexico are of good size, generally fully three inches in length and frequently exceeding this measurement. They are much larger than those caught on the British coast and the north Atlantic coast of the United States. They are in fine condition the year round and may be caught in the lagoons any season of the year without fear of interruption by northers, at least not for more than a day or so during any time of the year.

Sudden End of Aged Pair.

Two old folks at Gympie, Queensland, Australia, died with pathetic suddenness a few days ago. When Arthur Morgan, aged seventy years, saw fire break out at some of his farm fencing, he excitedly ran to extinguish it, but after hurrying a few paces, the old man dropped dead. His aged wife ran to see what had happened, but the shock of finding him dead was too much for her, and she too dropped lifeless close to her husband's body.

Valid Objection.

One of the funniest things that has been said in Richmond lately was overheard the other day in West Franklin street. Two colored women were talking. One of them said: "I wouldn't go to North Carolina." "Why wouldn't you go to North Carolina?" asked the other, and this surprising answer came to the question: "I wouldn't go to North Carolina because North Carolina is so close to South Carolina."—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

First Users of Tobacco.

The tendency now is to rob the North American Indian of the credit of having given to civilization the boon of tobacco. Some ascribe its origin to the Medes and Persians, others to the inhabitants of the Malay archipelago, and still others to the Arabs in general. There appears to be an Arabian word "sakara," meaning to smoke, from which our words cigar and cigarette may have been derived.

Philosophy of Health.

This philosophy of health may be summed up in three words: "Work, wash and pray." The greatest blessing that man enjoys—as is realized—is his ability and opportunity to work. Habits of personal cleanliness elevate an civilize man. The firm holding of a faith that keeps man to pray builds character and forms habits that lead him to high places of thought and endeavor.

Restoring Burnt Steel.

The following process will restore burnt steel. Mix well together four pounds of fine white sand, half a pound of sal ammoniac, a quarter of a pound of copperas, and half a pound of resin, all pulverized. When the steel is hot, sprinkle with this mixture and allow to cool. This process will restore any burnt steel.

And the Pilgrim Left.

Pilgrim—"If I come in will thet dorg bite me?" Mrs. Hawkins—"We ain't no ways sure, mister. But the feller that let us take him on trial said he'd chaw up a tramp in less'n two minutes, but land sakes, we aint goin' to believe it till we see it done."

Petrifying.

She—Oh, professor! I saw such a funny old fossil in the museum today. I thought of you at once.—Judge.
